Observatory on the Protection of Taxpayers’ Rights

Below you will find a questionnaire filled in by Salvatore Mirandola, Partner at McCarthy Tétrault in Toronto and OPTR National Reporter of Canada.

This set of questionnaires comprise the National Reporter’s assessment on the country practice during 2020 in the protection of taxpayers’ rights, and the level of fulfilment of the minimum standards and best practices on the practical protection of taxpayers’ rights identified by Prof. Dr. Philip Baker and Prof. Dr. Pasquale Pistone at the 2015 IFA Congress on “The Practical Protection of Taxpayers’ Fundamental Rights”.

Dear National Reporter,

I would like to thank you for your participation in the IBFD’s Observatory on the Protection of Taxpayers’ Rights (OPTR).

This form collects the information on the practical implementation in domestic law of legal procedures, safeguards and guarantees associated with taxpayers’ rights in 82 situations for the practical protection of taxpayers’ rights, as monitored by the IBFD Observatory on the Protection of Taxpayers’ Rights.

We kindly ask you to assess assertively (yes/no) the level of practical implementation of said procedures, safeguards and guarantees associated with taxpayers’ rights in your country. When answering, please bear in mind the actual practice regarding each situation, regardless of whether a given procedure, safeguard or guarantee has been formally adopted in your country.

We would be very grateful if you submit us this questionnaire, duly filled out, by no later than 15 January 2021.

Feel free to contact us for any clarification you may need. We look forward to your valuable contribution to this remarkable project.

Kind regards,

Prof. Dr. Carlos E. Weffe

In August, the Canadian government had been responding to "credential surfing" attacks targeting CRA accounts and GCKey services. Fraudsters used usernames and passwords of 9 million users of the approximately 12 million active GCKey accounts to attempt to access government services. Hackers were able to exploit a vulnerability in the configuration of security software, which allowed them to bypass the CRA security questions and gain access to a user’s CRA account. As a result of the cyberattacks, the CRA disabled online services related to: change of address and phone number, arranging for direct deposit and appointing an authorized representative. Individuals whose accounts were compromised received a letter from the CRA explaining how to confirm their identity and reactivate their account.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, a number of relevant relieving measures were enacted. In March, the deadline for objections was moved to June 30, 2020; objections filed before March 18, 2020 were held in abeyance.

In July, the Time Limits and Other Periods Act received Royal Assent. Section 6 of the Act suspended time limits related to court proceedings from March 13, 2020 to September 13, 2020. The suspension applies to the commencement of court proceedings and any time limit in relation to steps within a court proceeding. The suspension also applies to applications for leave to commence a proceeding or applications for leave within a proceeding. A court may vary the suspension of a time limit, however the commencement date of the suspension must remain the same and the suspension cannot exceed six months. Courts can also make orders with respect to the effect of failing to meet a suspended time limit, including orders that cancel or vary those effects.

The Act also gives the Minister the power to retroactively extend reassessment limitation periods and certain other periods that would have otherwise expired between March 13, 2020 and December 31, 2020. By order of the Minister, the following time limits were extended by six months or until December 31, 2020, if that day was before the end of those six months: the normal reassessment period, the deadline to reassess a taxpayer for taking certain actions as outlined in paragraph 152(4)(b) of the Income Tax Act, the deadline to reassess a taxpayer who has not filed an information return as and when required in relation to steps within a court proceeding. The suspension also applies to applications for leave to commence a proceeding or applications for leave within a proceeding. A court may vary the suspension of a time limit, however the commencement date of the suspension must remain the same and the suspension cannot exceed six months. Courts can also make orders with respect to the effect of failing to meet a suspended time limit, including orders that cancel or vary those effects.

See Item 8(S). In March, the CRA stopped initiating any new GST/HST or income tax audits and announced it would temporarily suspend interaction with taxpayers for most audits of business already in progress. The CRA stated that its interaction with taxpayers would be limited to cases where the legal deadline to reassess a tax return was approaching, and in cases of high risk GST/HST refund claims that require some contact before they can be paid out. The CRA resumed audit work earlier in the summer; it was focusing on higher dollar audits first, audits close to completion, audits with a strategic importance to the government and efforts to combat suspected fraud and criminal activity. Starting in September, the CRA’s small and medium business audits would be focusing on addressing complex and aggressive tax planning arrangements using partnerships and trusts by sophisticated and high income earners, as well as audits in the real estate sector aimed to combat offensive non-compliance prevalent in Vancouver and Toronto.

(b) place the package in the custody of the sheriff of the district or county in which the seizure was made or, if the officer and the lawyer agree in writing on a person to act as custodian, in the custody of that person.

Examination of certain documents where privilege claimed

(3.1) Where, pursuant to section 231.1, an officer is about to inspect or examine a document in the possession of a lawyer or where, pursuant to section 231.2, the Minister has required provision of a document by a lawyer, and the lawyer claims that a named client or former client of the lawyer has a solicitor-client privilege in respect of the document, no officer shall inspect or examine the document and the lawyer shall

(a) place the document, together with any other document in respect of which the lawyer at the same time makes the same claim on behalf of the same client, in a package and suitably seal and identify the package or, if the officer and the lawyer agree, allow the pages of the document to be initialed and numbered or otherwise suitably identified; and

(b) retain it and ensure that it is preserved until it is produced to a judge as required under this section and an order is issued under this section in respect of the document.

Application to judge

(4) Where a document has been seized and placed in custody under subsection 232(3) or is being retained under subsection 232(3.1), the client, or the lawyer on behalf of the client, may

(a) within 14 days after the day the document was so placed in custody or commenced to be so retained apply, on three clear days notice of motion to the Deputy Attorney General of Canada, to a judge for an order
(i) fixing a day, not later than 21 days after the date of the order, and place for the determination of the question whether the client has a solicitor-client privilege in respect of the document, and

(ii) requiring the production of the document to the judge at that time and place;

(b) serve a copy of the order on the Deputy Attorney General of Canada and, where applicable, on the custodian within 6 days of the day on which it was made and, within the same time, pay to the custodian the estimated expenses of transporting the document to and from the place of hearing and of safeguarding it; and

(c) if the client or lawyer has proceeded as authorized by paragraph 232(4)(b), apply at the appointed time and place for an order determining the question.

Disposition of application

(5) An application under paragraph 232(4)(c) shall be heard in camera, and on the application

(a) the judge may, if the judge considers it necessary to determine the question, inspect the document and, if the judge does so, the judge shall ensure that it is repackaged and resealed; and

(b) the judge shall decide the matter summarily and,

(i) if the judge is of the opinion that the client has a solicitor-client privilege in respect of the document, shall order the release of the document to the lawyer, and

(ii) if the judge is of the opinion that the client does not have a solicitor-client privilege in respect of the document, shall order

(A) that the custodian deliver the document to the officer or some other person designated by the Commissioner of Revenue, in the case of a document that was seized and placed in custody under subsection 232(3), or

(B) that the lawyer make the document available for inspection or examination by the officer or other person designated by the Commissioner of Revenue, in the case of a document that was retained under subsection 232(3.1), and the judge shall, at the same time, deliver concise reasons in which the judge shall identify the document without divulging the details thereof.

Order to deliver or make available

(6) Where a document has been seized and placed in custody under subsection 232(3) or where a document is being retained under subsection 232(3.1) and a judge, on the application of the Attorney General of Canada, is satisfied that neither the client nor the lawyer has made an application under paragraph 232(4)(a) or, having made that application, neither the client nor the lawyer has made an application under paragraph 232(4)(c), the judge shall order
(a) that the custodian deliver the document to the officer or some other person designated by the Commissioner of Revenue, in the case of a document that was seized and placed in custody under subsection 232(3); or

(b) that the lawyer make the document available for inspection or examination by the officer or other person designated by the Commissioner of Revenue, in the case of a document that was retained under subsection 232(3.1).

Delivery by custodian

(7) The custodian shall

(a) deliver the document to the lawyer

   (i) in accordance with a consent executed by the officer or by or on behalf of the Deputy Attorney General of Canada or the Commissioner of Revenue, or

   (ii) in accordance with an order of a judge under this section; or

(b) deliver the document to the officer or some other person designated by the Commissioner of Revenue

   (i) in accordance with a consent executed by the lawyer or the client, or

   (ii) in accordance with an order of a judge under this section.

Continuation by another judge

(8) Where the judge to whom an application has been made under paragraph 232(4)(a) cannot for any reason act or continue to act in the application under paragraph 232(4)(c), the application under paragraph 232(4)(c) may be made to another judge.

Costs

(9) No costs may be awarded on the disposition of any application under this section.

Directions

(10) Where any question arises as to the course to be followed in connection with anything done or being done under this section, other than subsection 232(2), 232(3) or 232(3.1), and there is no direction in this section with respect thereto, a judge may give such direction with regard thereto as, in the judge’s opinion, is most likely to carry out the object of this section of allowing solicitor-client privilege for proper purposes.

Prohibition

(11) The custodian shall not deliver a document to any person except in accordance with an order of a judge or a consent under this section or except to any officer or servant of the custodian for the purposes of safeguarding the document.
Idem

(12) No officer shall inspect, examine or seize a document in the possession of a lawyer without giving the lawyer a reasonable opportunity of making a claim under this section.

Authority to make copies

(13) At any time while a document is in the custody of a custodian under this section, a judge may, on an ex parte application of the lawyer, authorize the lawyer to examine or make a copy of the document in the presence of the custodian or the judge by an order that shall contain such provisions as may be necessary to ensure that the document is repackaged and that the package is resealed without alteration or damage.

Waiver of claim of privilege

(14) Where a lawyer has, for the purpose of subsection 232(2), 232(3) or 232(3.1), made a claim that a named client of the lawyer has a solicitor-client privilege in respect of information or a document, the lawyer shall at the same time communicate to the Minister or some person duly authorized to act for the Minister the address of the client last known to the lawyer so that the Minister may endeavour to advise the client of the claim of privilege that has been made on the client’s behalf and may thereby afford the client an opportunity, if it is practicable within the time limited by this section, of waiving the claim of privilege before the matter is to be decided by a judge or other tribunal.

Compliance

(15) No person shall hinder, molest or interfere with any person doing anything that that person is authorized to do by or pursuant to this section or prevent or attempt to prevent any person doing any such thing and, notwithstanding any other Act or law, every person shall, unless the person is unable to do so, do everything the person is required to do by or pursuant to this section.
