

Observatory for the Protection of Taxpayers' Rights

Below you will find a questionnaire filled in by or with the contribution of the National Reporter of Argentina, Prof. Alberto Tarsitano, a representative from the tax practitioners.

This questionnaire comprises the National Reporter assessment on the level of compliance of the minimum standards and best practices on the practical protection of taxpayers' rights identified by Prof. Dr. Pistone and Prof. Dr. Philip Baker at the 2015 IFA Congress on "The Practical Protection of Taxpayers' Rights". This report was filled in considering the following parameters:

1. It contains information on those issues in which there were movements towards or away from the level of compliance of the relevant standard/best practice in Argentina between 2015 and 2017.
2. It is indicated, by the use of a checkmark () whether there were movements towards or away from of the level of compliance of the relevant standard/best practice in Argentina between 2015 and 2017.
3. It contains a summarized account on facts (legislation enacted, administrative rulings, circulars, case law, tax administration practices) that serves as grounds for each particular assessment of the level of compliance of a given minimum standard / best practice, in a non-judgmental way.

Country:

Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
1. Identifying taxpayers, issuing tax returns and communicating with taxpayers
Implement safeguards to prevent impersonation when issuing unique identification numbers		✓		Regulations impose liability upon the user of the e-tax password with respect to safeguarding and protecting it. However, new General Resolution 3713/15 imposes new requirements for the representatives of corporations or of estates to obtain and use the e-password. The amount of information and services provided through the AFIP's web service varies according to levels.
The system of taxpayer identification should take account of religious sensitivities
Impose obligations of confidentiality on third parties with respect to information gathered by them for tax purposes	Where tax is withheld by third parties, the taxpayer should be excluded from liability if the third party fails to pay over the tax			If third parties withhold the tax the taxpayer is excluded from liability if the third party does not pay.
Where pre-populated returns are used, these should be sent to taxpayers to correct errors
Provide a right of access for taxpayers to personal information held about them, and a right to apply to correct inaccuracies	Publish guidance on taxpayers' rights to access information and correct inaccuracies			The taxpayer has access via AFIP web's site, to the personal information the tax administration has about them and request the correction of inaccuracies. The AFIP performs an analysis of the taxpayers positions by means of certain indicators and classifies them into categories using the risk profile system, SIPER. By General Resolution 3985-E a new system considered more efficient was implemented.
Where communication with taxpayers is in electronic form, institute systems to prevent impersonation or interception
Where a system of "cooperative compliance" operates, ensure it is available on a non-discriminatory and voluntary basis
Provide assistance for those who face difficulties in meeting compliance obligations, including those with disabilities, those located in remote areas, and those unable or unwilling to use electronic forms of communication		✓		General Resolution 4418-E (January 2018) establishes the obligation to make appointments via web for the presentation of form o the providence of information and assistance, in order to make the administration more efficient and keep registry of the consultations made.

				The AFIP has since 2013 operated a mobile tax agency system, for approaching taxpayers residing in remote areas. The AFIP's web page now allows the taxpayers to request a mobile tax agency to a certain destination. Also, the mobile tax agency has visited big corporations to help individuals with their returns.
2. The issue of tax assessment
	Establish a constructive dialogue between taxpayers and revenue authorities to ensure a fair assessment of taxes based on equality of arms	✓		Law 27.430 (tax reform, 2017) incorporates a new article following article 16 of the Tax Procedure Law, allowing the tax administration to seek an agreement with the taxpayers in certain cases when estimations, measurements or assessment of certain information or data is necessary to determine the tax obligation or when due to the complexities, novelty of importance of the situation such agreement is recommended. Art 13 of the Tax Procedure Law was modified, allowing the taxpayer to modify the tax return once presented for miscalculations or material errors. If the new tax return is presented within 5 days of the first one and the amount rectified does not exceed 5% of the original tax base declared, the new tax return substitutes the original one presented.
Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
2. The issue of tax assessment (cont)
	Use e-filing to speed up assessments and correction of errors, particularly systematic errors
3. Confidentiality
Provide a specific legal guarantee for confidentiality, with sanctions for officials who make unauthorised disclosures (and ensure sanctions are enforced)	Encrypt information held by a tax authority about taxpayers to the highest level attainable		✓	Information regarding certain taxpayers was leaked, particularly information obtained by the tax administration in the 2016 tax system for voluntary declaration of undeclared foreign and national currency and asset holdings. Tax administrations officials are under investigation for selling confidential information.
Restrict access to data to those officials authorised to consult it. For encrypted data, use digital access codes	Ensure an effective fire-wall to prevent unauthorised access to data held by revenue authorities
Audit data access periodically to identify cases of unauthorised access
Introduce administrative measures emphasising confidentiality to tax officials	Appoint data protection/privacy officers at senior level and local tax offices
If a breach of confidentiality occurs,		✓		Tax administrations officials are under judicial investigation for selling investigate fully with an appropriate level of seniority by independent persons (e.g. judges)				confidential information obtained during the 2016 voluntary declaration of undeclared assets.

Introduce an offence for tax officials covering up unauthorised disclosure of confidential information
Provide remedies for taxpayers who are victims of unauthorised disclosure of confidential information
Exceptions to the general rule of confidentiality should be explicitly stated in the law, narrowly drafted and interpreted
If “naming and shaming” is employed, ensure adequate safeguards (e.g. judicial authorisation after proceedings involving the taxpayer)	Require judicial authorisation before any disclosure of confidential information by revenue authorities
No disclosure of confidential taxpayer information to politicians, or where it might be used for political purposes	Parliamentary supervision of revenue authorities should involve independent officials, subject to confidentiality obligations, examining specific taxpayer data, and then reporting to Parliament			The Law 27.260 of 2016 (tax amnesty), includes the notion of tax secrecy for the information obtained, and all judicial, administrative or political officers, or third parties (with the exception of journalists) who disclose the information would be criminally prosecuted.

Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
3. Confidentiality (cont).
Freedom of information legislation may allow a taxpayer to access information about himself. However, access to information by third parties should be subject to stringent safeguards: only if an independent tribunal concludes that the public interest in disclosure outweighs the right of confidentiality, and only after a hearing where the taxpayer has an opportunity to be heard		✓		Law 27.430 (tax reform, 2017) specifically incorporates tax secrecy within the exceptions to the obligation to grant access to public information. The information protected by tax secrecy is excluded from the right to access public information established in the law 27.275 that regulates citizen’s access to public information. The tax reform also modifies article 107 of the Tax Procedure Law, widening its scope, and establishes that public and private entities, banks, and stockbrokers have the obligation to give the tax authority all information required in order to prevent or reduce tax fraud and evasion. On the other hand, general Resolution 3952/16 prohibits financial entities and other agents from requiring taxpayers to present their tax returns in order to preserve tax secrecy.
If published, tax rulings should be anonymised and details that might identify the taxpayer removed	Anonymise all tax judgments and remove details that might identify the taxpayer
Legal professional privilege should apply	Privilege from disclosure should apply to all tax

to tax advice	advisors (not just lawyers) who supply similar advice to lawyers. Information imparted in circumstances of confidentiality may be privileged from disclosure
Where tax authorities enter premises which may contain privileged material, arrangements should be made (e.g. an independent lawyer) to protect that privilege
4. Normal audits.
Audits should respect the following principles: (1) Proportionality (2) Ne bis in idem (prohibition on double jeopardy) (3) Audi alteram partem (right to be heard before any decision is taken) (4) Nemo tenetur se detegere (principle against self-incrimination). Tax notices issued in violation of these principles should be null and void
In application of proportionality, tax authorities may only request for information that is strictly needed, not otherwise available, and must impose least burdensome impact on taxpayers

Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
4. Normal audits (cont).
	In application of ne bis in idem the taxpayer should only receive one audit per taxable period, except when facts that become known after the audit was completed
In application of audi alteram partem , taxpayers should have the right to attend all relevant meetings with tax authorities (assisted by advisors), the right to provide factual information, and to present their views before decisions of the tax authorities become final

In application of nemo tenetur , the right to remain silent should be respected in tax audits.
	Tax audits should follow a pattern that is set out in published guidelines
	A manual of good practice in tax audits should be established at the global level
	Taxpayers should be entitled to request the start of a tax audit (to obtain finality)
Where tax authorities have resolved to start an audit, they should inform the taxpayer	Where tax authorities have resolved to start an audit, they should hold an initial meeting with the taxpayer in which they spell out the aims and procedure, together with timescale and targets. They should then disclose any additional evidence in their possession to the taxpayer			Law 27. 430 (tax reform) incorporates new article following art 36 which regulates that in order to investigate or verify the tax situation of a taxpayer, the tax administration should issue an order of intervention. This order should include the date, the name of the tax officials involved and the taxes and information under investigation.
Taxpayers should be informed of information gathering from third parties
	Reasonable time limits should be fixed for the conduct of audits
Technical assistance (including representation) should be available at all stages of the audit by experts selected by the taxpayer
Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
4. Normal audits (cont).
The completion of a tax audit should be accurately reflected in a document, notified in its full text to the taxpayer	The drafting of the final audit report should involve participation by the taxpayer, with the opportunity to correct inaccuracies of facts and to express the taxpayer's view
	Following an audit, a report should be prepared even if the audit does not result in additional tax or refund
5. More intensive audits.
	More intensive audits should be limited to the extent strictly necessary to ensure an effective reaction to non-compliance

If there is point in an audit when it becomes foreseeable that the taxpayer may be liable for a penalty or criminal charge, from that time the taxpayer should have stronger protection of his right to silence, and statements from the taxpayer should not be used in the audit procedure
Entering premises or interception of communications should be authorised by the judiciary
Authorisation within the revenue authorities should only be in cases of urgency, and subsequently reported to the judiciary for ex post ratification
Inspection of the taxpayer's home should require authorisation by the judiciary and only be given in exceptional cases.	Where tax authorities intend to search the taxpayer's premises, the taxpayer should be informed and have an opportunity to appear before the judicial authority, subject to exception where there is evidence of danger that documents will be removed or destroyed
	Access to bank information should require judicial authorisation
	Authorisation by the judiciary should be necessary for interception of telephone communications and monitoring of internet access. Specialised offices within the judiciary should be established to supervise these actions
Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
5. More intensive audits (cont).
Seizure of documents should be subject to a requirement to give reasons why seizure is indispensable, and to fix the time when documents will be returned; seizure should be limited in time
	If data are held on a computer hard drive, then a backup should be made in the presence of the taxpayer's advisors and the original left with the taxpayer
Where invasive techniques are applied, they should be limited in time to avoid disproportionate impact on taxpayers		✓		Law 27.430 (tax reform 2017) increases the requirements the tax administration needs in order to close an establishment, even if it maintains the possibility which was widely criticised.

				The reform also modifies the article regulating the closure by the tax administration of an establishment, eliminating the fine that used to be required and reducing the number of days the closure can be maintained.
6. Review and appeals.
	E-filing of requests for internal review to ensure the effective and speedy handling of the review process
The right of appeal should not depend upon prior exhaustion of administrative reviews
	Reviews and appeals should not exceed two years
Audi alteram partem should apply in administrative reviews and judicial appeals
Where tax must be paid in whole or in part before an appeal, there must be an effective mechanism for providing interim suspension of payment	An appeal should not require prior payment of tax in all cases
	The state should bear some or all of the costs of an appeal, whatever the outcome
Legal assistance should be provided for those taxpayers who cannot afford it
Taxpayers should have the right to request the exclusion of the public from a tax appeal hearing		✓		Tax reform (2017) modifies Tax Procedure Law (art. 173) and allows, in cases where the facts are controverted, the Tax Court to call both taxpayer and tax administration to an audience in order to hear and question both parties regarding these facts and present evidence.
Tax judgments should be published

Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
7. Criminal and administrative sanctions.
Proportionality and ne bis in idem should apply to tax penalties
	Where administrative and criminal sanctions may both apply, only one procedure and one sanction should be applied			Tax reform maintains the Tax Criminal Law article which stated that administrative authority should not apply sanctions until the criminal procedure is finished.

	Voluntary disclosure should lead to reduction of penalties
Sanctions should not be increased simply to encourage taxpayers to make voluntary disclosures
8. Enforcement of taxes.
Collection of taxes should never deprive taxpayers of their minimum necessary for living
	Authorisation by the judiciary should be required before seizing assets or bank accounts
Taxpayers should have the right to request delayed payment of arrears
	Bankruptcy of taxpayers should be avoided, by partial remission of the debt or structured plans for deferred payment
Temporary suspension of tax enforcement should follow natural disasters
9. Cross-border procedures.
The requesting state should notify the taxpayer of cross-border requests for information, unless it has specific grounds for considering that this would prejudice the process of investigation. The requested state should inform the taxpayer unless it has a reasoned request from the requesting state that the taxpayer should not be informed on grounds that it would prejudice the investigation	The taxpayer should be informed that a cross-border request for information is to be made

Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
9. Cross-border procedures (cont).
	Where a cross-border request for information is made, the requested state should also be asked to supply information that assists the taxpayer

	Provisions should be included in tax treaties setting specific conditions for exchange of information
If information is sought from third parties, judicial authorisation should be necessary
	The taxpayer should be given access to information received by the requesting state
	Information should not be supplied in response to a request where the originating cause was the acquisition of stolen or illegally obtained information A requesting state should provide confirmation of confidentiality to the requested state
A state should not be entitled to receive information if it is unable to provide independent, verifiable evidence that it observe high standards of data protection
	For automatic exchange of financial information, the taxpayer should be notified of the proposed exchange in sufficient time to exercise data protection rights
	Taxpayers should have a right to request initiation of mutual agreement procedure
Taxpayers should have a right to participate in mutual agreement procedure by being heard and being informed as to progress of the procedure
10. Legislation.
Retrospective tax legislation should only be permitted in limited circumstances which are spelt out in detail	Retrospective tax legislation should ideally be banned completely
	Public consultation should precede the making of tax policy and tax law

Minimum Standard	Best Practice	Shift towards	Shift away	Development
11. Revenue practice and guidance.

Taxpayers should be entitled to access all relevant legal material, comprising legislation, administrative regulations, rulings, manuals and other guidance		✓		Tax Reform enacted in 2017 incorporates to art. 1 of the Tax Procedure Law the right of the taxpayers to access all rulings from the tax authority, which should be published with all regulations dictated, even though these ruling are not always a binding precedent.
Where legal material is available primarily on the internet, arrangements should be made to provide it to those who do not have access to the internet
Binding rulings should only be published in an anonymised form
Where a taxpayer relies upon published guidance of a revenue authority which subsequently proves to be inaccurate, changes should apply only prospectively
12. Institutional framework for protecting taxpayers' rights.
Adoption of a charter or statement of taxpayers' rights should be a minimum standard	A separate statement of taxpayers' rights under audit should be provided to taxpayers who are audited
	A taxpayer advocate or ombudsman should be established to scrutinise the operations of the tax authority, handle specific complaints, and intervene in appropriate cases. Best practice is the establishment of a separate office within the tax authority but independent from normal operations of that authority
	The organisational structure for the protection of taxpayers' rights should operate at local level as well as nationally			