OPTR - 2021 Questionnaire 1 - Country Practice

Dear National Reporter,

I would like to thank you for your participation in the IBFD's Observatory on the Protection of Taxpayers' Rights (OPTR).

In this regard, the Supreme Court has admitted a cassation appeal (Auto 27 May 2021) to determine the adequacy of the right to privacy and the protection of personal data that is protected by article 18 of the Spanish Constitution, of the advertising contemplated in article 95 bis of the GTA. As indicated by the Supreme Court, "information is being published that, although it does not show completely and in its entirety the economic situation of the taxpayer by describing only the debit existing with a certain subject, can provide indications about the economic level of those taxpayers included in the aforementioned list, which could conflict with the right to privacy of debtor taxpayers and, therefore, would require a judgment of proportionality that would make it possible to assess whether the benefits or advantages reported by restricting the rights to privacy and data protection are greater than the damages that such restriction would cause".

In this sense, Law 11/2021, of July 9, on prevention and anti-fraud measures has made some modifications to article 95 bis of the LGT.

In application of ne bis in idem principle, taxpayers should only receive one audit per taxable period. However, the Spanish Tax System recognizes the possibility that verification was carried out by two different bodies (Gestión-Inspección) with the limitation established by art. 140 of the General Tax Act: it is necessary to discover new facts or circumstances from different administrative actions. It is interesting to note the Judgment of the National Court (Audiencia Nacional) of 3 June 2021 that determines the following: once a limited verification has been carried out on a certain tax within the same tax year, which ended without regularization, another limited verification procedure cannot be started later with respect to the same tax and period, to request documentation other than that required in the first procedure, without new facts or data that were not available to the Administration or that the Administration could not have requested from the taxpayer in the first verification.

(Another issue to be highlighted) In relation to the appropriate body to carry out the verification, the Judgment of the Supreme Court of 23 March 2021 establishes that the verification of the application of a special regime of Corporation Tax is competence to the Inspection.

28 (MS). In application of audi alteram partem, taxpayers should have the right to attend all relevant meetings with tax authorities (assisted by advisors), the right to provide factual information, and to present their views before decisions of the tax authorities become final.

Regarding the reduction of penalties, the Central Economic-Administrative Court (TEAC) establishes that it is appropriate to apply the 25% reduction of the penalty in cases of postponed tax payment (or tax payment in instalments) with exemption from guarantees, since the law does not make any distinction in this regard (16 February 2021).

Law 11/2021, of July 9, on prevention and anti-fraud measures introduces greater reductions in the sanction in cases of agreement and voluntary payment.
