IBFD’s Library and Information Centre is widely regarded as the world’s leading resource facility in the field of international and comparative taxation. Its extensive collection covers almost every country in the world, comprising thousands of books, subscriptions to all of the most important international tax journals and loose-leaf services, as well as national tax resources ranging from generic to specialized materials. The Library also provides access to a wide variety of online resources.

Open to the public
Visits to our Library are free. If you are planning to visit us, please let us know so that we can reserve a working space (with or without appliances) for you.

Please note that making use of the services offered in the Library is connected with the payment of an annual service fee.
The Library Portal
Find what you need on our Portal at www.ibfd.org
Or ask for our help via the Portal or per email.
We have several information specialists at your disposal.

Consulting the Library Portal
The Library Portal allows you to search across the various collections and resources made available by the Library.

Personalized support
Our highly educated staff has the expertise to guide you through the immense amount of information, tools and resources available. They can also help you in networking and connecting with IBFD’s in-house tax experts.

Order Library materials
All collections are available for use at the IBFD Library and Information Centre. Publications cannot be taken out on loan, but the Library offers print copies of certain materials at a fee. More information can be found on the Portal, accessible via our website.

IBFD’s Library and Information Centre is the one-stop tax research facility for:

- Browsing a continuously expanding collection of publications on international and comparative taxation
- Studying literature, annual reports and various research surveys on international taxation
- Research and study visits for extended periods of time
- Finding extensive country surveys of official law texts and official sources in the original language
- Guided tours and an introduction to international tax resources
- Tailor-made instruction on effective fact-finding, etc.

From the past into the future

What began in 1938 as a small library and documentation centre staffed by four researchers has grown into a unique special library collecting a broad range of materials. The IBFD Library and Information Centre is now regarded as the world’s leading resource facility in the field of international and comparative taxation, and it plays an important role in serving the international tax community.

In our Library, you will find historical materials dating back to 1811, as well as the most recent publications in the field of (international) taxation. Our collection contains documents from all over the globe, and it continues expanding.

Connection with other libraries and institutions

We are actively involved in a variety of library associations (and similar institutions), and we continuously grow our network of friends from and within the (international) tax world.
