The duration of each webinar is around 1.5 hour.

Webinar 1: Questions and Answers Related to the Course Introduction to GCC VAT

Webinar #1 Live	The webinar will serve as a follow-up on the live classroom course and give participants the opportunity to get in touch with the instructors of the classroom course again and ask clarification, explanation on specific issues or areas of their interest. This follow-up webinar will help participants to reinforce their understanding of the core issues of GCC VAT and their practical implications.
-----------------------------------	---

Webinar 2: Global VAT

Webinar #2 On-demand	The webinar will examine the basic principles of VAT/GST systems used by various developing countries and advanced economies including the definition of a taxable person, what constitutes a taxable supply for VAT/GST purposes and how a business can deduct the VAT it incurs. Examples from different jurisdictions worldwide will be provided in order to compare and contrast with GCC VAT.
--	---

Webinar 3: Practical Examples of Inter-State Trade

Webinar #3

On-demand

The webinar will focus on the pressing VAT issues generated by the inter-state exportation and importation of goods and services. Legislative examples and case law from other jurisdictions will be brought forward to show participants the most current issues, debate, risks and opportunities surrounding the topic.

Webinar 4: Financial Services

Webinar #4

Live

The VAT treatment of financial services is a controversial issue. Some core financial services are in general exempted by the different VAT regimes around the globe, but certain groups of these services are either zero rated, out of scope or subject to the standard VAT rates. There are also several important issues that have to be considered by VAT experts, such as how to define financial services and service providers, what the VAT treatment is of related services that are not themselves financial services, how to distinguish the different services, what conditions need to be met for exemption, as well as how and to what extent businesses can recover input VAT on the different groups of services. The webinar will clarify these issues within the GCC VAT framework.

Webinar 5: Designated Zones

Webinar #5 Live	Designated zones are specific areas in the territory of GCC countries in which businesses conducting for example export/import transactions often benefit from looser regulatory requirements. In terms of VAT, companies operating in these zones can, under certain conditions, be considered to be outside of VAT. However, there are important provisions, including stringent VAT compliance processes, to be taken into account. This webinar will shed light on the VAT aspects of operating from a designated zone within the GCC as well as the intricacies for foreign businesses in transacting with companies located in such zones.

Webinar 6: VAT Compliance

Webinar #6 Live	It is important that the participants of the Certificate programme learn how to manage their VAT position in the GCC and avoid substantial risks of non-compliance. The webinar is designed to provide the necessary support and clarify questions related to issues such as registration, de-registration, filing of returns, preparation, completion and submission of documentation, invoicing, dealing with enquiries and inspections and payment procedures.
