

IBFD Publication Ethics and Malpractice Statement

European Taxation

August 2019

1. Editors

European Taxation, founded in 1960, contains articles providing detailed analyses of key legal and policy developments affecting taxation and investment in European countries and in the European Union.

European Taxation has an editorial board whose members are leading and internationally recognized experts in the field. The members of this board can be found on the journal's product page on <https://www.ibfd.org/IBFD-Products/IBFD-Journal-Articles-Europe>.

Articles should demonstrate depth of research and are evaluated based on impact/innovation, scientific analysis and methodology.

Submissions of manuscripts are accepted under the following categories:

- Substantive articles on current topics with regard to taxation in Europe, EU Member States and European tax law, written by experts with inside knowledge of developments in tax law;
- News and developments covered in brief notes outlining important changes in taxation, including: new laws, amendments to laws, tax treaty interpretations, case notes, and rulings and decisions; and
- Reports on conferences with a European focus.

All articles submitted undergo an editorial review to determine whether, in principle, they meet the criteria for publication in European Taxation as specified. Articles are generally not peer reviewed. Authors may be required to submit a revised draft, taking into account review feedback, including making reference to literature, case law or legislation, as required. Revised drafts will always subject to a post-editorial internal review process.

The Editors warrant:

1. To exercise their best objective judgment in only accepting original manuscripts, which have not been published before and which meet the stated requirements for publication in European Taxation;
2. To arrange the appropriate review of the manuscripts submitted for publication in the Journal, including to make appropriate alternate arrangements in cases of any potential conflict of interest;
3. To treat all submitted manuscripts and correspondence with authors and reviewers as confidential;
4. To ensure that manuscripts accepted for publication and forwarded to the publisher will be accompanied by a 'Journal Author Agreement' form signed by the authors. It is understood that the authors are required to obtain written permission to the extent necessary and to indicate the precise sources of the excerpts in the manuscript. The authors will indemnify and hold harmless IBFD against any third-party claims resulting from any breach of this warranty. This warranty also applies to any excerpts from copyrighted works included in the manuscript.
5. To see to it that no manuscript will contain anything that is obscene, indecent or of a libelous or scandalous character, or otherwise infringes rights of third parties;
6. That authors will be instructed to compose typescripts in accordance with the 'IBFD Instructions to Authors', 'IBFD Publications Style and Spelling Guidelines' and 'Guidelines to the IBFD Standard Citations and References' as found on the publisher's website on <https://www.ibfd.org/Authors-Correspondents/Journal-Contribution-IBFD>;
7. To provide a timely in-flow of manuscripts sufficient to fill European Taxation's monthly publication schedule.
8. It is understood that the authors will be responsible for the proofreading - within the period mentioned in the instructions accompanying the proofs - of their own manuscripts. Should the author fail to do so, the Editors will assume responsibility for prompt and proper correction.

2. Authors

All authors are required to sign a 'Journal Author Agreement providing, in part, that:

1. The author warrants that the material is his/her own original work, except for such excerpts from copyrighted works (including illustrations, tables, animations and text quotations) as may be included with the permission of the copyright holder thereof, in which case(s) the author is required to obtain written permission to the extent necessary and to indicate the precise sources of the excerpts in the Article. The manuscript will be delivered to the publisher free of copyright charges. Since IBFD publishes its journal articles in both print and electronic formats, permission from the copyright holder (often the original publisher) should be sought for both the print and electronic format. Evidence that such permission was granted should be submitted together with the manuscript.
2. In granting permission, the copyright holder may specify how their material should be acknowledged or credited in your manuscript. Please ensure that you follow such instructions. Be sure to keep the written permission on file, together with a copy of your manuscript.
3. The author grants and assigns to IBFD, for the duration of copyright and all extensions and renewals thereof, the exclusive copyright to the Article and all rights therein, including but not limited to the right to publish, reproduce, distribute, transmit, make available or otherwise communicate to the public, translate, archive, store, lease or lend and sell the Article, in whole or in part, in any language, throughout the world, in any form, format, medium of expression or business model now known or hereafter developed, and to license or permit others to do so.
4. The author warrants that he/she has not assigned the above rights to any third party, that neither the Article nor any portion thereof has heretofore been submitted for publication or published elsewhere, that neither the Article nor any portion thereof is in the public domain, and that neither the (content of) the Article provided by the author to IBFD nor entering into this Agreement will impair or violate anyone else's rights including but not limited to rights of privacy, rights of publicity, libel, or infringement of copyright or any other rights. The author will indemnify and hold harmless IBFD against any third-party claim resulting from any breach of this warranty. This warranty also applies to any excerpts from copyrighted works included in the manuscript.
5. The author agrees to be named as author of the manuscript. The author declares and warrants that any person named as co-author of the manuscript is aware of that fact and has agreed to being so named. The author signs this agreement also on behalf of and in the name of each co-author, who hereby agrees with this agreement in full. The author warrants and represents that he is empowered by any co-author to represent this co-author in signing this agreement in their name.
6. The author accepts responsibility for proofreading their manuscript. Questions or assistance required during the preparation of your manuscript may be obtained from the Editorial Department, which may be contacted for technical and editorial support via authorsupport@ibfd.org. Inquiries regarding content and scope should be addressed to the Chief Editor.
