Table of Contents

Foreword v

Acknowledgements vii

Chapter 1. Introduction to Transfer Pricing and Dispute Resolution 1

Steven C. Wrappe

1. Transfer pricing risk management 1
2. Basics of transfer pricing compliance 5
   2.1. General 5
   2.2. The transfer pricing report 6
3. Dispute process 10
4. Audit landscape 11
   4.1. Tax planning that involves transfer pricing 11
   4.2. Interest rate determination: GE Capital 12
   4.3. Pharmaceutical industry: GlaxoSmithKline Inc. 13
5. Conclusion 14

Chapter 2: Dispute Channels 15

Suzan Arendsen

1. Overview of common dispute process 15
2. Description of procedures 16
   2.1. Audit 16
   2.2. Appeals and litigation 19
   2.3. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration 21
      2.3.1. Mutual agreement procedure 22
      2.3.2. EU Arbitration Convention 26
   2.4. Advance pricing agreement 29
      2.4.1. What is an advance pricing agreement? 29
      2.4.2. Advance pricing agreement process 30
      2.4.3. Benefits and advantages 33
      2.4.4. Considerations for deciding to seek an advance pricing agreement 34
      2.4.5. Advance pricing agreements in times of economic downturn 34
3. Advantages and disadvantages of means of dispute resolution 35
   3.1. Advantages and disadvantages of the mutual agreement procedure 35
   3.2. Advantages and disadvantages of arbitration under the EU Arbitration Convention 36
   3.3. Advantages and disadvantages of an advance pricing agreement 36

4. Commentary on discussions and negotiations with tax authorities 37

Chapter 3: International Developments 39

Monique van Herksen

1. OECD Guidance 39
   1.1. Mutual agreement procedure, new Art. 25 of the OECD Model Convention and Commentary to Art. 25 40
   1.2. Arbitration provision 43
   1.3. Exchange of information 53

2. EU-specific requirements 56
   2.1. EU Arbitration Convention 56
      2.1.1. Historical background 56
      2.1.2. Strengths and weaknesses of the Arbitration Convention 59
      2.1.3. Procedure to obtain arbitration under the Arbitration Convention 60
      2.1.4. Code of Conduct on implementation of the Arbitration Convention of July 2006 62
      2.1.5. Revised Code of Conduct on Arbitration Convention 63
   2.2. Intra-group services 64
   2.3. Triangular transfer pricing cases 67
      2.3.1. Introduction 67
      2.3.2. EU triangular cases 71
      2.3.3. Non-EU triangular cases 72
      2.3.4. EU Joint Transfer Pricing Forum 75
   2.4. Commercial arbitration 77
      2.4.1. World Trade Organization 78
      2.4.2. UN Commission on International Trade Law 79
      2.4.3. Applicable rules and procedures 80
Chapter 4: Australia

Reynah Tang and Don Spirason

1. Introduction 83
   1.1. Transfer pricing legislation 83
   1.2. Interaction between legislation and tax treaties 85
   1.3. Administrative process 87
   1.4. Key transfer pricing issues in Australia 88
      1.4.1. Determination of the appropriate methodology 89
      1.4.2. Recharacterization of transactions by the tax authorities 90
   1.5. Management of transfer pricing: administrative and legal dimensions 91

2. Audit 92
   2.1. Historical background 92
   2.2. Primary current controversies 93
   2.3. Audit process and milestones 94
      2.3.1. Authorities involved 94
      2.3.2. Audit time line 94
      2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 98
      2.3.4. Rights and obligations of tax authorities 98
      2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 98
      2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 99
      2.3.7. Right of access to information 99
      2.3.8. Penalties 99
      2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 99
      2.3.10. Burden of proof 100
      2.3.11. Statute of limitations 100
      2.3.12. Information requests 100
      2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 100
   2.4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax audit 101

3. Appeals and litigation 101
   3.1. Historical statistics 101
   3.2. Appeals and litigation process 102
   3.3. Notable court decisions 104
      3.3.1. Carpenter: relevance of anti-avoidance purpose? 104
      3.3.2. Re Roche: methodology 105
      3.3.3. SNF: methodology and relevance of sustained losses 107
      3.3.4. Themes from the cases 108
   3.4. Recommendations 110
Table of Contents

4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration 111
   4.1. Historical statistics 111
   4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 111
   4.3. Arbitration 114
      4.3.1. Baseball arbitration 115
      4.3.2. Not precedent setting 115
   4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 115

5. Advance pricing agreements 116
   5.1. Historical statistics 116
   5.2. Advance pricing agreement process 118
      5.2.1. Governmental agencies involved 118
      5.2.2. Domestic regulations; bilateral and multilateral 118
      5.2.3. Coverage 118
      5.2.4. Process 118
         5.2.4.1. Step one: pre-lodgement meetings 120
         5.2.4.2. Step two: lodgement of formal application 120
         5.2.4.3. Step three: analysis and evaluation 121
         5.2.4.4. Step four: negotiation and agreement 121
         5.2.4.5. Step five: concluded advance pricing agreement 121
      5.2.5. Fees 122
      5.2.6. Timing for filing requests for advance pricing agreements 122
      5.2.7. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 123
      5.2.8. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 123
      5.2.9. Critical assumptions 123
      5.2.10. Withdrawals 123
      5.2.11. Agreement with taxpayer 123
      5.2.12. Revocation, revision and renewal 123
      5.2.13. Annual compliance reporting 123
      5.2.14. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 124
   5.3. Practical experience with advance pricing agreements and advance tax rulings 124
   5.4. Advance pricing agreements in times of economic downturn 124
Table of Contents

5.5. Special advance pricing agreements 124
5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 125
6. Recommendations 126

Chapter 5: Brazil 129

Marcelo Natale and Carlos Nicacio

1. Introduction 129
   1.1. Terms and definitions 129
   1.2. Transfer pricing documentation 136
      1.2.1. Requirements and deadlines 137
      1.2.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 138
   1.3. Local dispute procedure 138
   1.4. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 139
   1.5. Tax authorities 140
      1.5.1. Organizational structure 140
      1.5.2. Other relevant players 140
      1.5.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 140
      1.5.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 141
      1.5.5. Contact information 141
      1.5.6. Profile and aggressiveness 142
   2.1. Historical background 143
   2.2. Primary current controversies 144
   2.3. Audit process and milestones 146
      2.3.1. Authorities involved 146
      2.3.2. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 147
      2.3.3. Rights and obligations of authorities 147
      2.3.4. Information used in tax audits 147
      2.3.5. Confidentiality of information 148
      2.3.6. Right of access to information 149
      2.3.7. Penalties 149
      2.3.8. Access to foreign-based information 150
      2.3.9. Burden of proof 150
      2.3.10. Statute of limitations 151
      2.3.11. Information requests 151
      2.3.12. Solicitor-client privilege 152
   2.4. Recommendation for taxpayers during a tax audit 152
Table of Contents

3.1. Historical statistics 152
3.2. Appeals and litigation process 153
  3.2.1. Administrative Council of Tax Appeals 153
  3.2.2. Judicial courts 153
3.3. Notable court decisions 154
3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 156

Chapter 6: Canada 177

David Francescucci and Shiraj Keshvani

1. Introduction 177
  1.1. Transfer pricing documentation 177
    1.1.1. Background, requirements and deadlines 177
      1.1.1.1. Transfer pricing documentation requirements 178
      1.1.1.2. Transfer pricing methodologies 181
      1.1.1.3. Services 182
      1.1.1.4. Intangibles 182
    1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 183
  1.2. Local dispute procedure 184
  1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 188
  1.4. Tax authorities 189
    1.4.1. Organizational structure 189
    1.4.2. Other relevant players 190
    1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 191
    1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 193
    1.4.5. Contact information 194
    1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 194
2. Audit 195
  2.1. Historical background 195
  2.2. Primary current controversies 197
  2.3. Process and milestones 199
    2.3.1. Authorities involved 199
    2.3.2. Audit timeline 199
    2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 200
    2.3.4. Rights and obligations of authorities 201
    2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 202
Table of Contents

2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 203
2.3.7. Right of access to information 204
2.3.8. Penalties 205
2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 208
2.3.10. Burden of proof 210
2.3.11. Statute of limitations 210
2.3.12. Information requests 210
2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 211
2.4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax audit 211
3. Appeals and litigation
  3.1. Historical statistics 212
  3.2. Appeals and litigation process 212
  3.3. Notable court decisions 213
    3.3.1. GlaxoSmithKline Inc. v. Her Majesty the Queen 214
    3.3.2. General Electric Capital Canada Inc. v. Her Majesty the Queen 216
    3.3.3. J. Hofert Ltd v. The Minister of National Revenue 217
    3.3.4. Indalex Ltd v. Her Majesty the Queen 218
  3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 219
4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration
  4.1. Historical statistics 219
  4.2. Mutual agreement procedure
    4.2.1. Notification process and conditions to request 220
    4.2.2. Time limits 224
    4.2.3. Penalties and interest 225
  4.3. Arbitration
    4.3.1. History 226
    4.3.2. Mandatory arbitration under the Canada–United States treaty 226
    4.3.3. Not precedent setting 228
  4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 228
5. Advance pricing agreements
  5.1. Historical statistics 229
  5.2. Advance pricing agreement process
    5.2.1. Government agencies involved 230
    5.2.2. Domestic regulations; bilateral and multilateral 230
    5.2.3. Coverage 231
    5.2.4. Process 231

xv
Table of Contents

5.2.5. Fees 231
5.2.6. Timing for filing requests for advance pricing agreements 232
5.2.7. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 232
5.2.8. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 233
5.2.9. Critical assumptions 233
5.2.10. Withdrawals 234
5.2.11. Agreement with taxpayer 234
5.2.12. Revocation, revision and renewal 234
5.2.13. Annual compliance reporting 235
5.2.14. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 235
5.2.15. Mandatory arbitration under the Canada–United States treaty 235
5.3. Practical experience with advance pricing agreements and advance tax rulings 236
5.4. Advance pricing agreements in times of economic downturn 237
5.5. Special advance pricing agreements 238
5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 239
6. Recommendations 240

Chapter 7: China 243

Cheng Chi and Ho Yin Leung

1. Introduction 243
1.1. Transfer pricing documentation 243
1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines 244
1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 247
1.2. Local dispute procedure 248
1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 248
1.4. Tax authorities 249
1.4.1. Organizational structure 249
1.4.2. Other relevant players 250
1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 250
Table of Contents

1. 4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 250
1. 4.5. Contact information 250
1. 4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 251

2. Audit 252
2. 1. Historic background 252
2. 2. Primary current controversies 253
2. 3. Audit process and milestones 254
2. 3.1. Authorities involved 255
2. 3.2. Audit time line 255
2. 3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 255
2. 3.4. Rights and obligations of authorities 256
2. 3.5. Information used in tax audits 256
2. 3.6. Confidentiality of information 256
2. 3.7. Right of access to information 257
2. 3.8. Penalties 257
2. 3.9. Access to foreign-based information 257
2. 3.10. Burden of proof 257
2. 3.11. Statute of limitations 258
2. 3.12. Information requests 258
2. 3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 258
2. 4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax audit 258

3. Appeals and litigation 259
3. 1. Historical statistics 259
3. 2. Appeals and litigation process 259
3. 3. Notable court decisions 259
3. 4. Advantages and disadvantages 260

4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration 260
4. 1. Historical statistics 260
4. 2. Mutual agreement procedure 261
4. 2.1. Notification process and conditions to request 261
4. 2.2. Time limits 261
4. 2.3. Penalties and interest 261
4. 3. Arbitration 262

5. Advance pricing agreements 262
5. 1. Historical statistics 262
5. 2. Advance pricing agreement process 264
5. 2.1. Governmental agencies involved 264
5. 2.2. Domestic regulations; bilateral or multilateral 264
5. 2.3. Coverage 264
5. 2.4. Process 265
Table of Contents

5.2.5. Fees 268
5.2.6. Timing for filing requests for advance pricing agreements 268
5.2.7. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 268
5.2.8. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 268
5.2.9. Critical assumptions 269
5.2.10. Withdrawals 269
5.2.11. Agreement with taxpayer 270
5.2.12. Revocation, revision and renewal 270
5.2.13. Annual compliance reporting 270
5.2.14. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 271
5.3. Practical experience with advance pricing agreements and advance tax rulings 271
5.4. Advance pricing agreements in economic downturn 272
5.5. Special advance pricing agreements 272
5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 272
6. Recommendations 273

Chapter 8: France 277

Bruno Gibert

1. Introduction 277
1.1. Transfer pricing documentation 277
1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines 277
1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 280
1.2. Local dispute procedure 280
1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 281
1.4. Tax authorities 282
1.4.1. Organizational structure 282
1.4.2. Other relevant players 284
1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 284
1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments procedure 284
1.4.5. Contact information 284
1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 285

xviii
Table of Contents

2. Audit 285
   2.1. Historical background 285
   2.2. Primary current controversies 286
   2.3. Audit process and milestones 286
      2.3.1. Authorities involved 286
      2.3.2. Audit timeline 286
      2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 288
      2.3.4. Rights and obligations of authorities 289
      2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 290
      2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 291
      2.3.7. Right of access to information 291
      2.3.8. Penalties 292
      2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 292
      2.3.10. Burden of proof 293
      2.3.11. Statute of limitations 294
      2.3.12. Information requests 294
      2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 294
   2.4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax audit 295

3. Appeals and litigation 295
   3.1. Historical statistics 295
   3.2. Appeals and litigation process 295
   3.3. Notable court decisions 296
   3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 298

4.1. Historical statistics 299
   4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 299
      4.2.1. Notification process and conditions to request 299
      4.2.2. Time limits 302
      4.2.3. Penalties and interest 303
   4.3. Arbitration 304
      4.3.1. Baseball arbitration 304
      4.3.2. Not precedent setting 305
   4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 305

5. Advance pricing agreements 306
   5.1. Historical statistics 306
   5.2. Advance pricing agreement process 306
      5.2.1. Governmental agencies involved 306
      5.2.2. Domestic regulations; bilateral and multilateral 307
      5.2.3. Coverage 307
      5.2.4. Process 308
      5.2.5. Fees 308
Table of Contents

5.2.6. Timing for filing requests for advance pricing agreements 309
5.2.7. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 309
5.2.8. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 310
5.2.9. Critical assumptions 311
5.2.10. Withdrawals 311
5.2.11. Agreement with taxpayer 311
5.2.12. Revocation, revision and renewal 312
5.2.13. Annual compliance reporting 312
5.2.14. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 312
5.3. Practical experience with advance pricing agreements and advance tax rulings 313
5.4. Advance pricing agreements in times of economic downturn 313
5.5. Special advance pricing agreements 314
5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 315
5.7. Recommendations 315

Chapter 9: Germany

Werner Stuffer, Roman Lang and Christian Reichardt

1. Introduction 319
   1.1. Transfer pricing documentation procedure 319
       1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines 319
       1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 323
   1.2. Local dispute procedure 324
   1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 325
   1.4. Tax authorities 325
       1.4.1. Organizational structure with relevant areas of jurisdiction 325
       1.4.2. Other relevant players 326
       1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 327
       1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 328
       1.4.5. Contact information 329
       1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 329
Table of Contents

2. Audit 329
   2.1. Historical background 329
   2.2. Primary current controversies 330
   2.3. Process and milestones 331
      2.3.1. Authorities involved 331
      2.3.2. Audit time line 331
      2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 332
      2.3.4. Rights and obligations of tax authorities 333
      2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 333
      2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 334
      2.3.7. Right of access to information 334
      2.3.8. Penalties 335
      2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 335
      2.3.10. Burden of proof 336
      2.3.11. Statute of limitations 337
      2.3.12. Information requests 338
      2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 338
   2.4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax audit 338
3. Appeals and litigation 339
   3.1. Historical statistics 339
   3.2. Appeals and litigation process 341
   3.3. Notable court decisions 343
   3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 345
4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration 345
   4.1. Historical statistics 345
   4.2. Mutual agreement procedure process 346
      4.2.1. Notification process and conditions to request 346
      4.2.2. Time limits 347
      4.2.3. Penalties and interest 348
   4.3. Arbitration procedure 348
   4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 350
5. Advance pricing agreements 351
   5.1. Historical statistics 351
   5.2. Advance pricing agreement process 351
      5.2.1. Government agencies involved 351
      5.2.2. Domestic regulations: bilateral and multilateral APAs 352
      5.2.3. Coverage 353
      5.2.4. Process 353
      5.2.5. Fees 356
      5.2.6. Timing for filing advance pricing agreements 356

xxi
Table of Contents

5.2.7. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 356
5.2.8. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 357
5.2.9. Critical assumptions 357
5.2.10. Withdrawals 358
5.2.11. Agreement with the taxpayer 358
5.2.12. Revocation, revision and renewal 358
5.2.13. Annual compliance reporting 359
5.2.14. Public disclosure of APAs 359
5.3. Practical experience with APAs and advance tax rulings 360
5.4. APAs in times of economic downturn 360
5.5. Special APAs 360
5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 361
6. Recommendations 362

Chapter 10: India 363

Rajendra Nayak and Srinivasa Rao

1. Introduction 363
1.1. Transfer pricing documentation 364
1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines 366
1.1.1.1. Generally 366
1.1.1.2. Safe harbours 368
1.1.1.3. Timing and period of documentation 369
1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 371
1.2. Local dispute procedure 374
1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 375
1.4. Tax authorities 375
1.4.1. Organizational structure 375
1.4.2. Other relevant players 377
1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies/penalties 377
1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 378
1.4.5. Contact information 379
1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 379

xxii
Table of Contents

2. Audits
   2.1. Historical background 380
   2.2. Primary current controversies 381
      2.2.1. Selection of comparable data 381
      2.2.2. Treatment of losses 383
      2.2.3. Royalty and management fees 384
      2.2.4. Marketing intangibles 384
      2.2.5. Contract research and development and business process outsourcing services 387
      2.2.6. Procurement and sales support services 387
      2.2.7. Attribution of profits to a permanent establishment 388
   2.3. Process and milestones 393
      2.3.1. Authorities involved 393
      2.3.2. Audit time line 393
      2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 395
      2.3.4. Rights and obligations of tax authorities 396
      2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 397
      2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 397
      2.3.7. Right of access to information 398
      2.3.8. Penalties 398
      2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 398
      2.3.10. Burden of proof 398
      2.3.11. Statute of limitations 399
      2.3.12. Information requests 399
      2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 400
   2.4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax audit 400

3. Appeals and litigation
   3.1. Historical statistics 401
   3.2. Appeals and litigation process 401
   3.3. Notable court decisions 403
      3.3.1. Marketing intangibles 403
      3.3.2. Interest-free loans 405
      3.3.3. Importance of functional analysis 407
      3.3.4. Selection of comparable data 406
      3.3.5. Adjustment for differences 407
      3.3.6. Recognition of actual transactions 408
   3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 408

4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration
   4.1. Historical statistics 409
   4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 409

xxiii
Table of Contents

4.2.1. Notification process and conditions to request 409
4.2.2. Time limits 410
4.2.3. Penalties and interest 410
4.3. Arbitration 411
4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 411
5. Advance pricing agreements 413
6. Recommendations 413

Chapter 11: Japan 415

Toshio Miyatake

1. Introduction 415
  1.1. Japanese transfer pricing legislation 415
      1.1.1. Legislative history 415
      1.1.2. Foreign related transactions 415
      1.1.3. Transfer pricing methodologies 416
      1.1.4. Intangibles 417
      1.1.5. Effect 418
      1.1.6. Repatriation 418
      1.1.7. Additions to tax 419
      1.1.8. Statute of limitations 419
      1.1.9. Transfer pricing disputes 419
      1.1.10. Suspension of tax payments 420
  1.2. Transfer pricing documentation 420
      1.2.1. Requirements and deadlines 420
      1.2.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 421
  1.3. Local dispute procedure 421
  1.4. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 423
  1.5. Tax authorities 423
      1.5.1. Organizational structure 423
      1.5.2. Other relevant players 424
      1.5.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 425
      1.5.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 425
      1.5.5. Contact information 426
      1.5.6. Profile and aggressiveness 426
Table of Contents

2. Audit  427
   2.1. Historical background  427
   2.2. Primary current controversies  427
   2.3. Audit process and milestones  427
       2.3.1. Authorities involved  429
       2.3.2. Audit timeline  429
       2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers  430
       2.3.4. Right and obligations of tax authorities  431
       2.3.5. Information used in tax audits  432
           2.3.5.1. Information requests  432
           2.3.5.2. Supply of information during tax audits  432
       2.3.6. Confidentiality of information  433
       2.3.7. Right of access to information  433
       2.3.8. Penalties  433
       2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information  434
       2.3.10. Burden of proof  435
       2.3.11. Statute of limitations  435
       2.3.12. Information requests  435
       2.3.13. Attorney-client privilege  436

3. Appeals and litigation  436
   3.1. Introduction  436
       3.1.1. Request for reinvestigation  436
       3.1.2. Request for reconsideration  437
       3.1.3. Advantages and disadvantages  438
   3.2. Litigation and appeals process  439
       3.2.1. Introduction  439
       3.2.2. Court procedure  439
   3.3. Notable court decisions  441
       3.3.1. Imabari Zosen: Takamatsu High Court, 13 October 2006, appealed from Matsuyama District Court, 14 April 2004  441
       3.3.2. Thai Bahts Loan: Tokyo District Court, 26 October 2006  442
       3.3.3. Adobe: Tokyo High Court, 30 October 2008, appealed from the Tokyo District Court, 7 December 2007  442
       3.3.4. Nippon Asshuku Tanshi: Osaka District Court, 11 July 2008  443
   3.4. Advantages and disadvantages  444

4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration  444
   4.1. Introduction  444
Table of Contents

4.1.1. Taxation not in accordance with the treaty 444
4.1.2. Corresponding adjustment 445

4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 447
4.2.1. Notification process and conditions for requesting 447
4.2.2. Mutual agreement procedure application 448
4.2.3. Relationship to remedies under Japanese domestic law 448
4.2.4. Payment of tax and the mutual agreement procedure 449
4.2.5. Mutual agreement procedure process 449
4.2.6. Consent of the taxpayer to the mutual agreement 450
4.2.7. Implementation of mutual agreement procedure 450
4.2.8. Interest on tax refunds and delinquency tax 451

4.3. Arbitration 451
4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 451
4.5. Options for transfer pricing dispute resolution 452
4.5.1. Audit stage 452
4.5.2. Correction notice stage 452
4.5.3. Administrative appeals and court procedure 452
4.5.4. Mutual agreement procedure 452

5. Advance pricing agreements 453
5.1. Introduction 453
5.2. APA application 457
5.2.1. Due date of filing a request for an advance pricing agreement 457
5.2.2. Supporting documents 457
5.2.3. Fees 458
5.2.4. Timing for filing a request for advance pricing agreement 458
5.2.5. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 458
5.2.6. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 458
5.2.7. APA period 459
5.2.8. Rollback period 459
5.2.9. Effect of advance pricing agreement application 459
Table of Contents

5.2.10. Non-acceptance of advance pricing agreement application 459
5.2.11. Withdrawals 460
5.2.12. Review of advance pricing agreement request 460

5.3. Advance pricing agreement 461
5.3.1. Agreement with taxpayers 461
5.3.2. Confirmation by tax authorities 461
5.3.3. Effect of advance pricing agreement 461

5.4. Critical assumptions 462
5.5. Revocation, revision and renewal 462
5.6. Annual compliance reporting 462
5.7. Compensating adjustments 463
5.8. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 463
5.9. Advantages and disadvantages 463

6. Conclusion 464

Chapter 12: Mexico 465

Moisés Curiel García

1. Introduction 465
1.1. Transfer pricing documentation 465
1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines 465
1.1.1.1. Related-party transactions 465
1.1.1.2. Transfer pricing methods 466
1.1.1.3. Best-method rule 466
1.1.1.4. Generally accepted accounting principles 466
1.1.1.5. Related parties 466
1.1.1.6. Required documentation 467
1.1.1.7. Information return 467
1.1.1.8. Compliance deadlines 467
1.1.1.9. Maquiladoras 468
1.1.1.10. Corporate flat tax 469
1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 469
1.2. Local dispute procedure 471
1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 471
1.4. Tax authorities 472
Table of Contents

1. Organizational structure and relevant areas of jurisdiction
2. Other relevant players
3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of policies and penalties
4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments
5. Contact information
6. Profile and aggressiveness

1. Organizational structure and relevant areas of jurisdiction

1.4.1. Organizational structure and relevant areas of jurisdiction 474
1.4.2. Other relevant players 473
1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of policies and penalties 474
1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 474
1.4.5. Contact information 475
1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 475

2. Audit

2.1. Historical background 476
2.2. Primary current controversies 476
2.3. Audit process and milestones 477
2.3.1. Authorities involved 477
2.3.2. Audit timeline 478
2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 478
2.3.4. Rights and obligations of tax authorities 479
2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 480
2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 480
2.3.7. Right of access to information 480
2.3.8. Penalties 481
2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 481
2.3.10. Burden of proof 482
2.3.11. Statute of limitations 482
2.3.12. Information requests 483
2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 484
2.4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax audit 484

3. Appeals and litigation

3.1. Historical statistics 485
3.2. Appeals and litigation process 486
3.3. Notable court decisions 486
3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 487

4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration

4.1. Historical statistics 488
4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 489
4.2.1. Notification process and conditions to request 489
4.2.2. Time limits 489
4.2.3. Penalties and interest 490
4.3. Arbitration 490
4.3.1. Baseball arbitration 490
4.3.2. Not precedent setting 490
4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 491
Table of Contents

5. Advance pricing agreements 491

5.1. Historical statistics 491

5.2. Advance pricing agreement process 491

5.2.1. Government agencies involved 492

5.2.2. Domestic regulations; bilateral and multilateral 492

5.2.3. Coverage 492

5.2.4. Process 493

5.2.5. Fees 493

5.2.6. Timing for filing requests for advance pricing agreements 493

5.2.7. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 494

5.2.8. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 494

5.2.9. Critical assumptions 494

5.2.10. Withdrawals 494

5.2.11. Agreement with taxpayer 494

5.2.12. Revocation, revision and renewal 495

5.2.13. Annual compliance reporting 496

5.2.14. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 496

5.3. Practical experience with advance pricing agreements and advance tax rulings 496

5.4. Advance pricing agreements in times of economic downturn 496

5.5. Special advance pricing agreements 497

5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 497

6. Recommendations 497

Chapter 13: Netherlands 499

Eduard Sporken, Jeannette van der Vegt and Harald Dols

1. Introduction 499

1.1. Transfer pricing documentation 500

1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines 500

1.1.2. Penalties, interest and other fees 501

1.2. Local dispute procedure 502

1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 502

1.4. Tax authority 503
Table of Contents

1.4.1. Organizational structure 503
1.4.2. Other relevant players 504
1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 504
1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 504
1.4.5. Contact information 504
1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 504

2. Audit 506
2.1. Historical background 506
2.2. Primary current controversies 506
2.3. Audit process and milestones 507
2.3.1. Authorities involved 507
2.3.2. Flow chart 507
2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 508
2.3.4. Rights and obligations of the tax authorities 509
2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 510
2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 511
2.3.7. Right of access to information 511
2.3.8. Penalties 512
2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 512
2.3.10. Burden of proof 512
2.3.11. Statute of limitations 513
2.3.12. Information requests 514
2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 514
2.4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax audit 515

3. Appeals and litigation 515
3.1. Historical statistics 515
3.2. Appeals and litigation process 516
3.3. Notable court decisions 517
3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 520

4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration 521
4.1. Historical statistics 521
4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 523
4.3. Arbitration procedure in the European Union 527
4.3.1. The EU arbitration procedure 527
4.3.2. Baseball arbitration 533
4.3.3. Not precedent setting 533
4.3.4. Arbitration clause in tax treaty 534
4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 534
5. Advance pricing agreements 537
   5.1. Historical statistics 537
   5.2. Advance pricing agreement process 538
       5.2.1. Government agencies involved 538
       5.2.2. Domestic regulations; bilateral and multilateral 538
       5.2.3. Coverage 539
       5.2.4. Process 540
       5.2.5. Fees 541
       5.2.6. Timing for filing request for advance pricing agreements 541
       5.2.7. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 541
       5.2.8. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 543
       5.2.9. Critical assumptions 544
       5.2.10. Withdrawals 544
       5.2.11. Agreement with taxpayer 545
       5.2.12. Revocation, revision and renewal 545
       5.2.13. Annual compliance reporting 546
       5.2.14. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 546
   5.3. Practical experience with advance pricing agreements and advance tax rulings 546
   5.4. Advance pricing agreements in times of economic downturn 547
   5.5. Special advance pricing agreements 547
   5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 547
6. Recommendations 548

Chapter 14: South Africa 549

Wally Horak and Johan Kotze

1. Introduction 549
   1.1. Transfer pricing documentation 549
       1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines 549
       1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties rest and other fees 552
   1.2. Local dispute procedure 555
Table of Contents

1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation 563
1.4. Tax authorities 565
  1.4.1. Organizational structure 565
  1.4.2. Other relevant players 565
  1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 565
  1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 565
  1.4.5. Contact information 566
  1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 566
2. Audit 566
  2.1. Historical background 566
  2.2. Primary current controversies 567
  2.3. Audit process and milestones 567
    2.3.1. Authorities involved 567
    2.3.2. Audit timeline 568
    2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayer 568
    2.3.4. Rights and obligations of tax authorities 570
    2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 571
    2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 571
    2.3.7. Right of access to information 572
    2.3.8. Penalties 574
    2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 574
    2.3.10. Burden of proof 575
    2.3.11. Statute of limitations 575
    2.3.12. Information requests 575
    2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 575
    2.3.14. Recommendations for taxpayers during tax audits 576
3. Appeals and litigation 577
  3.1. Historical statistics 577
  3.2. Appeals and litigation process 577
  3.3. Advantages and disadvantages 578
4. Mutual agreement procedure under tax treaties and arbitration 578
  4.1. Historical statistics 578
  4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 578
5. Advance pricing agreements 578
6 Recommendations 579
Appendix A – Official text alternative dispute resolution 579
Appendix B – Flowchart illustrating the dispute resolution process 588
Chapter 15: United Kingdom

Philip Croall and Murray Clayson

1. Introduction
   1.1. Transfer pricing documentation
       1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines
       1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees
   1.2. Local dispute procedure
   1.3. Availability of international procedures and relief from double taxation
   1.4. Tax authorities
       1.4.1. Organizational structure
       1.4.2. Other relevant players: tribunal and court system
       1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties
       1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments
       1.4.5. Contact information
       1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness
   2. Audits
      2.1. Historical background
      2.2. Primary current controversies
      2.3. Audit process and milestones
          2.3.1. Authorities involved
          2.3.2. Audit time line
          2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers
          2.3.4. Right and obligations of tax authorities
          2.3.5. Information used in tax audits
          2.3.6. Confidentiality and privilege
          2.3.7. Right of access to information
          2.3.8. Penalties
          2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information
          2.3.10. Burden of proof
          2.3.11. Statute of limitations
          2.3.12. Information requests
          2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege
      2.4. Recommendations for taxpayers during a tax enquiry
Table of Contents

3. Appeals and litigation 601
   3.1. Historical statistics 601
   3.2. Appeals and litigation process 603
   3.3. Notable court decisions 606
   3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 608

4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration 610
   4.1. Historical statistics 610
   4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 610
       4.2.1. Notification process and conditions to request 611
       4.2.3. First Notification 613
   4.3. Arbitration 614
       4.3.1. “Baseball arbitration” 615
       4.3.2. Not precedent setting 615
   4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 615
       4.4.1. Advantages 615
       4.4.2. Disadvantages 616

5. Advance pricing agreements 616
   5.1. Historical statistics 616
   5.2. Advance pricing agreement process 616
       5.2.1. Governmental agencies involved 617
       5.2.2. Domestic regulations; bilateral and multilateral 617
       5.2.3. Coverage 617
       5.2.4. Process 618
       5.2.5. Fees 619
       5.2.6. Timing for filing request for an advance pricing agreement 619
       5.2.7. Timeline for unilateral advance pricing agreements 619
       5.2.8. Timeline for bilateral advance pricing agreements 619
       5.2.9. Critical assumptions 618
       5.2.10. Withdrawals 621
       5.2.11. Agreement with taxpayer 621
       5.2.12. Revocation, revision and renewal 621
           5.2.12.1. Renewal of advance pricing agreements 621
           5.2.12.2. Revision of advance pricing agreements 622
           5.2.12.3. Revocation of advance pricing agreements 622
Table of Contents

5.2.13. Annual compliance reporting 622
5.2.14. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 622

5.3. Practical experience with advance pricing agreements 623
5.4. Advance pricing agreements in times of economic downturn 623
5.5. Special advance pricing agreements 623
5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 624
5.6.1. Advantages 624
5.6.2. Disadvantages 624

6. Recommendations 624

Chapter 16: United States 627

Lawrence M. Hill

1. Introduction 627
1.1. Transfer pricing documentation 627
1.1.1. Requirements and deadlines 627
1.1.2. Applicable taxes, penalties, interest and other fees 629
1.2. Local dispute procedure 630
1.3. Availability of international procedures 632
1.4. Tax authorities 633
1.4.1. Organizational structure 633
1.4.2. Other relevant players 634
1.4.3. Programmes to ensure consistent application of transfer pricing policies and penalties 635
1.4.4. Downward transfer pricing adjustments 636
1.4.5. Contact information 636
1.4.6. Profile and aggressiveness 637

2. Audit 638
2.1. Recent events 638
2.2. Primary current controversies 639
2.3. Audit process and milestones 640
2.3.1. Authorities involved 640
2.3.2. Audit timeline 640
2.3.3. Rights and obligations of taxpayers 641
2.3.4. Rights and obligations of authorities 641
2.3.5. Information used in tax audits 642
Table of Contents

2.3.6. Confidentiality of information 642
2.3.7. Right of access to information 642
2.3.8. Penalties 642
2.3.9. Access to foreign-based information 644
2.3.10. Burden of proof 644
2.3.11. Statute of limitations 645
2.3.12. Information requests 645
2.3.13. Solicitor-client privilege 646
2.4. Recommendation for taxpayers during a tax audit 649
3. Appeals and litigation 649
  3.1. Historical statistics 649
  3.2. Appeals and litigation process 649
  3.3. Notable court decisions 651
    3.3.1. Xilinx, Inc. v. Commissioner 651
    3.3.2. Veritas Software Corp. v. Commissioner 652
  3.4. Advantages and disadvantages 655
4. Mutual agreement procedure and arbitration 656
  4.1. Historical statistics 656
  4.2. Mutual agreement procedure 657
    4.2.1. Notification process and conditions to request 657
    4.2.2. Time limits 658
    4.2.3. Penalties and interest 659
  4.3. Arbitration 659
    4.3.1. Baseball arbitration 659
    4.3.2. Not precedent setting 660
  4.4. Advantages and disadvantages 661
5. Advance pricing agreements 662
  5.1. Historical statistics 662
  5.2. Advance pricing agreement process 663
    5.2.1. Government agencies involved 664
    5.2.2. Domestic regulations; bilateral and multilateral advance pricing agreements 665
    5.2.3. Coverage 665
    5.2.4. Process 666
    5.2.5. Fees 667
    5.2.6. Timing for filing request for an advance pricing agreement 667
    5.2.7. Time line for unilateral and bilateral advance pricing agreements 668
    5.2.8. Critical assumptions 668
    5.2.9. Withdrawals 668
Table of Contents

5.2.10. Agreement with taxpayer 668
5.2.11. Revocation, revision and renewal 669
5.2.12. Annual compliance reporting 670
5.2.13. Public disclosure of advance pricing agreements 670
5.3. Practical experience with advance pricing agreements 670
5.4. APAs in times of economic downturn 671
5.5. Special advance pricing agreements 671
5.6. Advantages and disadvantages 672
6. Recommendations 672
Appendix A – US transfer pricing dispute procedure flowchart 673

Chapter 17: Case Study 675

Australia – Case Study 676
Brazil – Case Study 679
Canada – Case Study 688
China – Case Study 697
France – Case Study 703
Germany – Case Study 714
India – Case Study 719
Japan – Case Study 726
Mexico – Case Study 730
Netherlands – Case Study 735
South Africa – Case Study 741
United Kingdom – Case Study 744
United States – Case Study 750