Table of Contents

Foreword

Preface

General Acknowledgements

Introduction

Part One

Issues Relating to Article 5

Chapter 1: At the Disposal of – The Way towards a Broader Concept

Oana Popa

1.1. Introduction 3
1.2. An ambiguous concept 4
1.3. Unsettled issues surrounding the “at the disposal of” concept 6
1.4. Case law: Stories from more than three decades 9
1.5. Analysis of examples in the Commentary on the OECD Model (2010) 18
1.6. Concluding remarks 25

Chapter 2: A Certain Degree of Permanence – Between Temporary and Everlasting Business Activities

Andreas Perdelwitz

2.1. Introduction 27
2.2. Historical development 28
2.3. A certain degree of permanence 30
2.4. Insights from case law 32
   2.4.1. PGS Geophysical AS v. Government of Norway 32
   2.4.2. Fugro Engineers BV v. Assistant Commissioner of Income Tax 34
2.5. Recurrent activities 36
2.6. One-off projects 42
2.7. Subcontractor permanent establishment 46
2.8. Concluding remarks 54
Chapter 3:  In the Name of Clarity: Defining a Dependent
Agent Permanent Establishment

Belema R. Obuoforibo

3.1.  The crux of the matter
3.2.  The agent under article 5(5)
  3.2.1.  Background
  3.2.2.  Parenthesis: A brief excursion into the law of agency
    3.2.2.1.  Agency under civil law systems
    3.2.2.2.  Agency under common law systems
    3.2.2.3.  A brief comparison of both systems

3.3.  “In the name of” the enterprise
  3.3.1.  A literal interpretation?
  3.3.2.  Effects of a strictly literal interpretation
  3.3.3.  The intervention of the Commentary

3.4.  Article 5(5) and commissioner arrangements
  3.4.1.  The ties that “bind”: Zimmer and Dell
  3.4.2.  Spain goes its own way
  3.4.3.  The wheel comes full circle? The Boston Scientific case

3.5.  Concluding remarks

Chapter 4:  Withholding Taxes on Services Income –
A 21st Century Outlaw or a Necessary Evil?

Shee Boon Law

4.1.  Introduction
4.2.  Withholding taxes on services income
  4.2.1.  Withholding taxes on services income under domestic law
  4.2.2.  Source or nexus of services income under domestic law
  4.2.3.  Withholding taxes on services income under tax treaties
  4.2.4.  Impact of tax treaties on withholding taxes on services income

4.3.  Withholding tax implications of payments under cost contribution arrangements
  4.3.1.  Are payments under CCAs for the supply of know-how?
  4.3.2.  Are payments under CCAs for the provision of services?
4.3.3. Are payments under CCAs for an outright sale? 95
4.3.4. Source or nexus of payments under CCAs 96
4.4. Concluding remarks 98
Appendix A – Source State Withholding Taxes on Services Income of Non-Residents 99

Chapter 5: Controversies Involving the Taxation of Cross-Border Telecommunication Income: Is There a Need for New Rules? 103
Madalina Cotrut

5.1. Introduction 103
5.2. Overview of telecommunication services 104
  5.2.1. Transmissions made through satellites 104
  5.2.2. Transmissions made through cables 105
  5.2.3. Transmissions made through roaming 106
  5.2.4. Transmissions made through cloud computing and web hosting 106
  5.2.5. Transmissions made through radio spectrum 108
5.3. Application of the permanent establishment concept to telecommunication transactions 109
  5.3.1. Are the activities performed in any jurisdiction? 109
  5.3.2. Is there a fixed place of the foreign operator? 111
  5.3.3. Is the fixed place at the disposal of the foreign operator? 113
  5.3.4. Are core activities performed through the fixed place of business? 116
5.4. How does the definition of royalties fit with telecommunication transactions? 119
  5.4.1. Are the payments made for the use of, or right to use property or information or a secret process? 121
  5.4.2. Are the payments made for a transfer of “know-how”? 123
  5.4.3. Are the payments made for the leasing of industrial, commercial or scientific equipment? 124
5.5. Possible solutions to tax these transactions 128
  5.5.1. Is the tax levied on basic telecommunication charges a solution? 129
  5.5.2. Is a global formula apportionment a solution? 129
  5.5.3. Is a withholding tax on deductible expenses a solution? 130
  5.5.4. Is a “virtual permanent establishment” a solution? 130
5.6. Concluding remarks 132
Part Two
Issues Relating to Article 7

Chapter 6: The Authorized OECD Approach: An Overview

Roberto Bernales

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6.1</td>
<td>Introduction</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.2</td>
<td>The separate and independent enterprise approach and the authorized OECD approach</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.2.1</td>
<td>Origins of the separate and independent enterprise approach</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.2.2</td>
<td>The “relevant business activity” approach and the “separate entity approach”</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.2.3</td>
<td>Chronology of the work of the OECD Working Parties</td>
<td>144</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.3</td>
<td>Overview of the authorized OECD approach: From restricted independence to total independence of the permanent establishment</td>
<td>146</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.3.1</td>
<td>The 2008 OECD Model update: the amendment to the Commentary on Article 7</td>
<td>147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.3.2</td>
<td>The 2010 OECD Model update: the new article 7 and its Commentary</td>
<td>152</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.4</td>
<td>The authorized OECD approach: Two steps</td>
<td>153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.4.1</td>
<td>First step: The functional separate entity approach</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.4.2</td>
<td>Second step: Remuneration of the dealings</td>
<td>169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5</td>
<td>The authorized OECD approach: Controversial issues</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5.1</td>
<td>Application of the arm’s length principle and OECD Guidelines to the attribution of profits to permanent establishments</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5.2</td>
<td>Domestic legislation limitations for the application of the authorized OECD approach</td>
<td>173</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5.3</td>
<td>Lack of consensus in key aspects of the authorized OECD approach</td>
<td>174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5.4</td>
<td>Implementation issues for taxpayers</td>
<td>174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5.5</td>
<td>Dependent agent PE</td>
<td>177</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5.6</td>
<td>Non-discrimination</td>
<td>179</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5.7</td>
<td>Legal certainty</td>
<td>179</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5.8</td>
<td>EU law</td>
<td>180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.6</td>
<td>Concluding remarks</td>
<td>180</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Chapter 7: Capital Structure and Financing of Permanent Establishments
Luis Nouel

7.1. Preliminary notes 183
7.2. Historical evolution 184
   7.2.1. Genesis: The League of Nations era 184
   7.2.2. OECD era 187
      7.2.2.2. OECD report on international banking enterprises: 1984 188
      7.2.2.3. The expansion period: OECD report on attribution of income to PEs of 1994 and OECD Models of 1996-2005 189
      7.2.2.4. Discussion draft on attribution of profits to permanent establishments: 2001 191
      7.2.2.5. Draft Reports 2004-2006 192
      7.2.2.6. Contemporary period: 2008 and 2010 OECD Models 192
   7.3. Financing permanent establishment activities 194
      7.3.1. Debt vs. equity 194
      7.3.2. Funding of a permanent establishment 195
      7.3.3. Authorized OECD approach 196
      7.3.4. Determination of permanent establishment funding 196
      7.3.5. Free capital: preliminary remarks 199
         7.3.5.1. Capital allocation approach 200
         7.3.5.2. Thin capitalization approach 201
         7.3.5.3. Economic allocation approach 204
         7.3.5.4. Safe harbour approach: quasi-thin capitalization approach 204
         7.3.5.5. Common issues related to the allocation of free capital 205
   7.4. Adjusting interest expenses 207
   7.5. Concluding remarks 208

Chapter 8: Permanent Establishments and Intangibles: When Did Notional Royalties Become a Reality?
Ruxandra Vlasceanu

8.1. Setting the scene: The importance of intangible assets in the current economic environment 210
Table of Contents

8.2.  Historical development of the treatment of intangible assets for purposes of attributing profits to permanent establishments 213
  8.2.1.  Work undertaken by the League of Nations 213
  8.2.2.  Early versions of the OECD Model 216
  8.2.3.  The 1994 twist 217

8.3.  Current state of affairs: The treatment of intangible assets under the authorized OECD approach 220
  8.3.1.  Early stages: the 2001 discussion draft on the attribution of profits to permanent establishments 220
  8.3.2.  Shaping the authorized OECD approach 223

8.4.  The future implementation of the 2010 report on the attribution of profits to permanent establishments 227

Chapter 9:  How Fiction Becomes Reality: Equal Treatment for Permanent Establishments and Resident Enterprises 231
  Tamás Kulcsár

9.1.  Introduction 231
9.2.  Preliminary remarks 233
9.3.  Two approaches towards the equal treatment of permanent establishments and resident enterprises 236
  9.3.1.  First approach: source taxation right for notional payments 237
  9.3.2.  Second approach: exclusive source taxation rights over the profits attributable to a PE and shared taxation rights for its profit remittances 242

9.4.  The consequences of implementing either of the two proposals 246
  9.4.1.  Economic double taxation vs. taxation of retained profits 246
  9.4.2.  Deferred taxation 247
  9.4.3.  Determination of profits attributable to a PE 248

9.5.  Concluding remarks 248

Chapter 10:  The Applicability of the AOA to Existing Tax Treaties – A Matter of Interpretation? 251
  Ola van Boeijen-Ostaszewska

10.1.  Background 251
10.2.  Scope of this chapter 252
10.3. Role of the OECD Commentary in the interpretation and application of tax treaties 252
  10.3.1. Legal character of the OECD Commentary 253
  10.3.2. Vienna Convention 254
10.4. Effects of changes to the OECD Commentary 257
  10.4.1. Ambulatory or static interpretation? 257
  10.4.2. Where subsequent amendments are disregarded: The NatWest case 259
  10.4.3. Is there support for the ambulatory use of the Commentary?
    10.4.3.1. Position of OECD on the dynamics of the Commentary 261
    10.4.3.2. Fitting the Commentary into the framework of the Vienna Convention 262
    10.4.3.3. The degree of the change 264
10.5. Effect of 2008 Commentary on existing tax treaties 265
  10.5.1. Treaties concluded after the 2008 amendments to the Commentary 265
  10.5.2. Treaties concluded before the 2008 amendments to the Commentary 265
10.6. Events of 2010 and their effects on existing treaties 268
10.7. What will happen in practice? 269
10.8. Concluding remarks 270

Chapter 11: Implementation of the Authorized OECD Approach by OECD Member Countries 273
Bart Kosters and René Offermanns

11.1. Introduction 273
11.2. Policy statements and considerations on implementation of the authorized OECD approach 274
  11.2.1. Considerations of countries when implementing the authorized OECD approach 276
  11.2.2. Revenue aspects 277
11.3. Manner of application of the authorized OECD approach by the OECD member countries 277
  11.3.1. OECD member countries with guidance on the authorized OECD approach 278
  11.3.2. Other OECD member countries with provisions/resolutions on the separate entity approach 281
  11.3.3. Method to allocate functions, risks and assets 283
Table of Contents

11.3.4. Allocation of profits and losses 287
11.3.5. Valuation of attributed assets 290
11.3.6. Analysis of relevant case law and literature 291
11.4. Special situations 294
  11.4.1. Intra-group services 294
  11.4.2. Intangible assets 295
  11.4.3. Financial transactions 297
  11.4.4. Allocation of tangible assets and financial assets to PEs 299
11.5. Avoidance of double taxation in case of use of different allocation methods by treaty states 300
11.6. Allocation of profits to a dependent agent 302
11.7. Application of OECD Model changes to treaties effective and/or signed before 2008 303
  11.7.1. Compatibility with treaty policy, previous OECD Commentary and case law 303
  11.7.2. Practical consequences 305
11.8. Concluding remarks 306

Chapter 12: The UN Model and the BRICS Countries – Another View 307
Carlos Gutiérrez

12.1. Introduction 307
12.2. Position adopted in the 2011 UN Model and its Commentary 308
  12.2.1. The authorized OECD approach is not followed 308
  12.2.2. Deductibility of notional payments 309
  12.2.3. Adoption of the 2008 Commentary excluding the 2008 OECD Report 311
  12.2.4. Remarks 312
12.3. Tax treaty policy and practice of BRICS countries 313
  12.3.1. Tax treaty policy 313
    12.3.1.1. Position on article 7 of the OECD Model and its Commentary 313
    12.3.1.2. Country model conventions 314
  12.3.2. Tax treaty practice 315
  12.3.3. Remarks 318
12.4. Application of tax treaty principles and domestic law 318
  12.4.1. Domestic implementation guidance of the tax treaty directives 319
  12.4.2. Principles of domestic law to attribute profits to permanent establishments 320
| 12.4.2.1. Brazil                      | 321 |
| 12.4.2.2. China                     | 323 |
| 12.4.2.3. India                     | 325 |
| 12.4.2.4. Russia                    | 329 |
| 12.4.2.5. South Africa              | 330 |
| 12.4.2.6. Remarks                   | 332 |
| 12.4.3. Interaction between tax treaty principles and domestic law for attribution of profits to permanent establishments | 333 |
| 12.4.4. Case law                    | 334 |
| 12.5. Relevance of permanent establishment profit attribution in BRICS countries | 336 |
| 12.6. Concluding remarks            | 338 |

List of Authors

341